News in Brief

- DMH Stallard has appointed Chris Ashworth as a Consultant in the London Corporate Department. Chris will be working closely with Corporate and Finance Partners Stuart Hills and Perry Noble, who are spearheading the development of the firm's boutique City offering. Chris will support the Partner team focusing on developing the M&A and corporate finance practice, acting across key sectors on event driven transactions and other special situations. Chris now operates as a Corporate Counsel, and prior to that had a high profile career in the City (Ashurst, Lovells, O'Melveny & Myers).
- DMH Stallard has won another award for good practice management. The MPF is a Europe wide body that seeks to showcase sound management in professional services firms. DMH Stallard's finance team were recently recognised for the innovative way that they have helped the firm to manage its finances with the 'Best Financial Management' Award. Other winners on the night included DLA Piper, Cameron McKenna, BLP, and Taylor Wessing.
